

Parent Info Night

1st September

Not to be missed

How can we support our daughters to develop a positive body image and strong sense of self?

enlighten education
education innovation exploration

Danielle Miller from Enlighten Education will speak to parents about practical ways to help girls decode the mixed messages they get from society and help them discover their own natural beauty, self esteem and confidence Enlighten Education is an Australian program written specifically for teenage girls. It has been developed by a team of teachers with vast experience in educating girls, student welfare and in engaging young people with their learning. Many of the team also have degrees specialising in psychology and counselling.
